"He Killed My Mommy, Pat and Dale" Says Four-Year-Old Boy

SASKATOON (CP) — "He killed my mommy, Pat and Dale," four-year-old Donald Wourms said Thursday as he described the bludgeoning death of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Wourms, 38, and Mrs. Patricia Littlechief, 17, in a west Saskatoon home Thursday night.

Three hours earlier he had dashed breathless through the rear door of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cumptone with word of the tragedy.

Police said Mrs. Wourms and Mrs. Littlechief were clubbed to death with an axe. They said Mrs. Wourms' son, Dale, 7, was in serious condition in hospital with multiple skull fractures.

Hospital officials said Dale, apparently found unconscious outside the house, was under the care of a neurosurgeon and there was a possibility he would undergo surgery.

A man was taken into custody 1½ hours after the deaths were reported.

Two other persons in the house were not hurt. They were Mrs. Littlechief's son, Kim, 1½, and a female relative of Mrs. Wourms whose name was not available.

Conscription Again Issue As U.K. Faces New Crises

LONDON (CP)—Conscription has become an issue again in Westminster and neither political party is particularly happy about it.

A trio of recent crises—Cyprus, Aden and Malaysia—proved that Britain's 180,000-man, all-volunteer army is under considerable strain in terms of resources and manpower.

To begin with, army units are under strength and inadequately staffed with technicians. Despite a massive publicity campaign ended in 1960, the quality and quantity of recruits have left gaps in the line.

With the conflict against Indonesia in North Borneo threatening to develop into a protracted guerrilla war, Britain has told NATO that she may be forced to withdraw troops from Germany to meet her Far East commitments.

Final agreement with United States negotiators on international aspects of the power complex could be nailed down in a new round of talks opening here Monday.

External Affairs Minister Martin has said publicly that next week's bargaining session could be the last in the series begun last May after the Liberals took office.

Negotiators for the three governments last month approved in principle a plan believed to involve the purchase by the U.S. of a large block of Columbia power originally allocated to B.C., over a period of 20-odd years.

It is understood the U.S. would pay more than $400,000,000 in advance for that power, thus financing the construction of three storage dams in B.C. costing an estimated minimum of $380,000,000.

Thursday's agreement was announced after two days of discussions between a federal team headed by Mr. Martin and three B.C. delegates—Resources Minister Ray Williston, Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside, co-chairman of the B.C. Hydro and Power Authority.

AGREEMENT TECHNICAL
The Ottawa-B.C. agreement was described as highly technical and detailed.

A brief statement said the two parties "concluded on the terms of an agreement which is being recommended to their respective governments."

Panama Riots Rage; Links With U.S. Cut

Johnson Steps In

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson conferred by telephone today with President Roberto Chiari of Panama, in an effort to settle peacefully the crisis in Panama.

Johnson initiated the 15-minute telephone conference, Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, declined to give details of the conversation, except to say:

"The two presidents agreed there had to be a step to the violence in the Canal Zone."

Almost simultaneously, Johnson sent a group of U.S. officials to the Canal Zone by jet transport.

The leader of the delegation is Thomas C. Mann, the new assistant state secretary for inter-American affairs.

Mann is expected to confer personally with Chiari about the fighting that has flared since Thursday night between Panamanians and American troops and police guarding the Canal Zone.

Johnson telephone Chiari at 11:35 a.m. EST, shortly after winding up a 90-minute policy conference with top military, diplomatic and intelligence advisers.

Those in the group conferring with the president were believed to include State Secretary Dean Rusk; State Under-Secretary George Ball; and Army Secretary Cyrus R. Vance, who is slated to become deputy defence secretary.

Hospital Strike To Be Called Off

He said the settlement terms will be presented to a union membership meeting for ratification today in Windsor.

Mr. Rowntree said agreement was reached on all issues. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

The hospital engineers were asking for time-and-a-half pay for Sunday work, among other things.

"BLOODY ACT OF REPRESSION" IS HOW MOSCOW TERMS CRISIS

LONDON (Reuters)—Moscow radio today accused the United States of a "bloody act of repression against the Panamanians" and of issuing lying statements about the riots in the Panama Canal zone.

It said U.S. troops opened machine-gun and rifle fire on Panamanian students who were holding a peaceful demonstration. It said the U.S. command later issued a statement saying the troops attacked the students at Panamanian request.

"The shooting of the young Panamanian patriots has caused the wrath and indignation of the entire people," it said.

And in Havana, newspapers splashed the news of the disorders in the Panama Canal Zone today with such headlines as this in El Mundo: "Yankee massacre in Panama." The newspaper Hoy bannered: "American troops machine-gunned Panamanian people." Said Revolution: "Yankee forces kill in Panama."

Giant Columbia Power Project Moves Step Closer Reality

OTTAWA (CP)—The giant Columbia power project moved one step closer to reality late Thursday night when representatives of the federal and British Columbia governments reached agreement on all outstanding questions on the Canadian aspects.

Final agreement with United States negotiators on international aspects of the power complex could be nailed down in a new round of talks opening here Monday.

External Affairs Minister Martin has said publicly that next week's bargaining session could be the last in the series begun last May after the Liberals took office.

Many Killed, Hundreds Hurt In Canal Zone's Worst Strife

PANAMA CITY (AP)—Five Panamanians were reported killed and 96 wounded in new gun fighting today with U.S. troops on the border of the U.S. Canal Zone. This brought the death toll in the violence which erupted Thursday night to 15, including three U.S. soldiers.

The figures were reported by the presidential press office. There was no information on new casualties from the U.S. side.

Panama President Roberto Chiari prepared to address the nation after a telephone talk with U.S. President Johnson in Washington. Chiari already has accused the United States of aggression and has suspended diplomatic relations.

The Panama radio carried repeated pleas to the people to return to their homes and thus prevent further bloodshed.

National guard troops were guarding U.S. buildings which were attacked Thursday night. Stones were thrown at the Chase Manhattan Bank building this morning.

One radio broadcast appealed to Panamanians not to heed calls for rebellion by "agitors."

There was no public transportation in Panama, where an air of tension still prevailed on a day of mourning for those killed.

Panama suspended relations with the United States earlier today after a night of gun battles between U.S. armed forces and rioting Panamanians that left at least 10 dead.

Three U.S. soldiers and seven Panamanians died in the violence—the worst in the history of U.S.-Panama differences in the Canal Zone. Riots heavily damaged U.S. property.

Panamanian officials said they counted at least 190 injured while the toll of wounded among the U.S. soldiers was 34.

Panama's government accused the United States of aggression and sent its case to international forums after rioting broke out when Panamanian demonstrators tried to plant their national flag in the Canal Zone.

The Panamanian students moved in after U.S. students in the zone raised the American flag in defiance of orders from U.S. zone officials.

Panama's ambassador to the United States, Aquilino Boyd, was en route to UN headquarters to file the charges of aggression with the UN Security Council.

In bitter words he told reporters at Miami: "Panama has been the victim of unjustified oppression for 50 years."

Hees Faces 'Biggest Challenge' As Head Of Stock Exchanges

MONTREAL (CP)—George Hees, affable, handsome cabinet minister in the government of former prime minister Diefenbaker, has been appointed president of the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges.

The announcement was made here Thursday night by the boards of the two exchanges.

Mr. Hees, perhaps one of the most popular men to hold a portfolio in the Progressive Conservative administration, is expected to begin his new duties April 1.

The tall, 53-year-old Torontonian succeeds Eric Kierans who resigned the stock exchange posts last summer and later became revenue minister in the Quebec government of Premier Jean Lesage.

Mr. Hees, who made a strong impression here and abroad through his driving export campaigns as trade minister in the former Conservative government, described the new job Thursday night as his "biggest challenge."

During a telephone press conference from his home in Toronto, he said he believed that in his new position he could help to encourage investment by Canadians in their own country.

The telephone call to Montreal was arranged by the boards of the two exchanges after poor flying conditions forced cancellation of a planned flight here by Mr. Hees. He had been expected to attend a press conference timed to coincide with the announcement of his appointment.

Last Adjutant At Auschwitz 'Didn't Know Of Gas Chamber'

FRANKFURT, West Germany (Reuters)—The last adjutant of the infamous Auschwitz concentration camp told a court here today he first suspected what was happening there "because of the reek of burning bodies hung oppressively over the camp."

Former SS (Elite Guard) Capt. Karl Hoecker, now a 52-year-old cashier, has been accused of running the Auschwitz gas chambers and selecting victims for extermination. He said: "I learned of those dreadful things with horror. But what was I to do? I could only obey the orders of my commandant."

Hoecker, second of the 22 accused camp guards to be interrogated at West Germany's biggest war crimes trial, said: "When I went to Auschwitz in May, 1944, I had no idea of the SS human extermination machinery and of the gas chambers."

"I only heard about it later and suspected something frightful because of the reek of burning bodies which hung oppressively over the camp."

Both Sides Of Berlin's Wall Hold Meetings On Visits

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin and East German officials met today for preliminary talks that may set up negotiations to reopen the Berlin wall to West Berliners.

It was the first West Berlin-East German meeting since the wall was closed last Sunday after West Berliners were allowed for 18 days to visit relatives in the Soviet sector of the city.

Informants said Horst Korber, the administrative official representing West Berlin, probably handed back without reply a letter from Willy Stoph, acting East German premier, to Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin.

Stoph had demanded that Brandt play a direct role in new negotiations by meeting with East German Deputy Premier Alexander Abusch before new talks could begin.

That Old Familiar Tune Heard By Royal Probe

OTTAWA (CP)—For the third time in two days, the royal commission on taxation today heard a familiar request. That the tax structure surrounding cooperatives be taken away.

Today's appeal came in a bulky brief from the Retail Merchants Association of Canada, whose provincial branches presented similar views to the commission in its cross-Canada hearings last year.

Under the Tax Act, cooperatives can deduct patronage dividends from taxable income and they also get a tax holiday for their first three years of operation. Opponents of this arrangement contend that the tax structure surrounding cooperatives be taken away.

Ex-Defector Sails Home

TOKYO (AP)—Chou Hung-ching, a defector from Communist China who had second thoughts, sailed for home today. His deportation has strained relations between Japan and Nationalist China almost to the breaking point.

After months of indecision, the 44-year-old interpreter for a Red Chinese hydraulic mission sailed on a Japanese freighter.

After defecting Oct. 7, he said he wanted to go to Formosa but changed his mind and decided to go back to the mainland.

The Chinese Nationalists charge the Japanese government let pro-Peking Japanese and Chinese Communist brain-wash Chou.

Vancouver Crime Falls

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police Chief Ralph Booth said Thursday that crime dropped 2.7 per cent here last year while it rose 10 per cent nationally.

"I would hazard a guess that of cities comparable or larger in size, Vancouver stands alone," he said in his year-end report to the police commission. He attributed the decline to a steady communications, a stepped-up training program, the dog squad and preventative police details.

The report listed eight homicides for the year, compared with 19 in 1962 and 25 armed robberies, compared with 34 the previous year.

The decrease showed in street robberies, office and home break-ins, fraud, thefts from cars and car thefts.

DIVORCE GAINED VIA PHONOGRAPH

SHEFFIELD, England (AP)—Syed Mohammed Adnan, a native of Aden, divorced his first wife by phonograph record.

Into the microphone of a recording machine he spoke the words, "I divorce thee, I divorce thee, I divorce thee."

He had a magistrate's court Monday that he sent the record to his Arab wife in Aden, and under Muslim law that was enough to divorce her.

Syed, 44, explained that the husband told the wife verbally of the divorce in his view, the record complied with the law and saved him the air fare.

After the divorce he married an English girl. He told the court this marriage is breaking up but divorce in the English style is not so simple.

Syed was applying for custody of the two children by the second marriage. The court reserved its decision.

CLC Outlines Proposals For Making Economy Zip

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Labor Congress said today Canada has not made enough use of fiscal and monetary policies to promote economic expansion.

The CLC said in a brief to the Carter royal commission on taxation that a flexible fiscal policy could be designed around taxation for curbing inflationary pressures and staying off business recessions. This would be "one of the potentially most powerful counter-cyclical weapons available to the government."

The 1,000,000-member organization said the federal government should be provided with additional powers so it could use income tax more effectively for fiscal purposes.

Now, tax rates can be altered only by Parliament and "this may result in a slow and cumbersome use of fiscal policy when economic conditions warrant swifter action."

Parliament is not always in session and may be away at precisely the time that the economy needs the kind of stimulus that reduction in certain income tax rates may be able to give it.

The CLC said the Canadian tax system should always be based firmly on the ability-to-pay principle and personal income taxes can best comply with this ideal. Sales taxes were regressive since they tended to hit harder at those who could least afford it.

COMPARES TAX RATES

However, even personal income taxes were not as progressive as often assumed. The marginal rate increased by 21.4 per cent on the second $1,000 of taxable income while there was only a 12.5 increase when taxable income rose to $25,000 from $15,000. The marginal rate increased another 11.1 per cent when taxable income rose to $40,000 from $25,000.

The brief dismissed arguments that the rates are too progressive on high incomes. "Far from being too steeply progressive, the income tax structure at the upper income levels tends to become much more of a proportional than a progressive tax, heavily favoring those with larger incomes."

The 30-per-cent income tax on dividend income made the top marginal rates more of a demand interest than real importance. Most people in the top tax brackets probably received a "considerable portion" of their income from dividends and the credit would reduce both the marginal and average rates.

It seems to us that the present 20-per-cent tax credit on dividend income is excessive, and serves to make the income tax more regressive than it needs to be.

The brief said the old age security tax, applying to the first $3,000 of taxable income, also makes personal income tax less progressive, and the result is greater "tax only worsened what was already a bad situation."

It means that a person with a $3,000 taxable income pays the same amount as someone with a $25,000 income.

A study should be made in an effort to make sales taxes less regressive, the brief suggested. "It would seem to us that a sales tax could bear a greater relation to income if the sales tax on a Cadillac were higher than on a lower priced automobile."

How Canadian Press Feels About Control By Foreigners

Following are excerpts from editorials in representative Canadian newspapers on the suggestions of legislative moves to prevent foreign ownership of magazines and newspapers.

Toronto Telegram—Daily newspapers are an integral part of the democratic process of government and are so recognized informally as being "the fourth estate." It is inconceivable that there are newspaper executives who would seek out government control or recommendation over advertising—the financial lifeblood of newspapers—as was done in the O'Reilly report.

The Telegram strongly opposes any such proposed legislation.

The newspapers of this country, and those who decide their policies, have generally proved to be responsible. If there are editors and owners who are irresponsible enough to achieve the general respect and confidence of their readers, they are surely responsible enough, should the time come, to dispose of their papers in the same spirit with which they operate them.

Toronto Star—While no major Canadian newspapers are now under foreign control, it is known that American interests have made bids to purchase several important ones. Foreign interests, over the years, have acquired control of half Canada's manufacturing industry, and the same thing could happen to the newspaper business.

The newspapers' need protection from such competition (from across the border). If they do then there is something wrong with the Canadian product....

There is even some suggestion of action to prevent Canadian publications falling under foreign control. There is no such present threat and it is something unlikely there ever will be. But Canadians, such as Lord Beaverbrook and Baron designate Roy Thomson have created newspaper "empires" in other countries.

This is a different proposition from stipulating that radio and television stations should not come under foreign ownership. Such media use foreign property of Canada, in the way of air channels, and thus have to be licensed and controlled to prevent anarchy in the air waves.

Ex-U.S. Geology Student Says 20-Year Jail Term Not Just

TORONTO (CP)—Joseph John Darrell Peters, a former United States geology student who claims he is serving a 20-year prison term unjustly, today was granted an adjournment of his appeal to Jan. 23 in order to consult counsel.

Peters, who originally decided to argue his own motion to have the convictions against him quashed, was granted the two-week adjournment by the Ontario Supreme Court after Prof. H. S. Ryan offered to advise him.

The 31-year-old Seattle man told Mr. Justice John M. King today that after considering the matter he felt his case could be better sorted out and presented by a lawyer.

Prof. Ryan, a member of the faculty of law at Queen's University in Kingston, was present at the hearing and offered his services.

Peters, who two years ago held five hostages at knife point for 28 hours at Kingston Penitentiary to bring his case to the attention of the justice department, was earlier refused leave to appeal his convictions before the Ontario Court of Appeal.

He claims he was in a state of mental shock when he was brought to magistrate's court where he pleaded guilty to seven offences including armed robberies, break-ins and shooting. He was sentenced in March, 1960.

An incident in Kingston, Peters was transferred to the federal penitentiary in British Columbia. Late last year he appeared before Mr. Justice Angelo Branca of the British Columbia Supreme Court who ordered him transferred to Ontario jurisdiction.

Mr. Justice Branca granted Peters' application for transfer saying: "It would be a monstrous thing if a man is to be deprived of his right to appear in court."

Medicare Delays Seen

TORONTO (CP)—A delay in implementing Ontario's medical insurance scheme was forecast Thursday by Premier John Robarts.

Although the government's original intent was to introduce the medical insurance plan in 1965, the premier said the time factor would probably be extended in view of the progress of a 15-man committee heading public hearings on the plan.

The committee has met twice since December—in Windsor and Toronto—and received dozens of briefs and reports which criticize the draft plan and recommend in many cases, broad changes.

The hearings resume Jan. 31.

SCHOOL BOARD BRIEFS

C. E. Sladen, trustee, in moving acceptance at Thursday night's school board meeting, praised the annual reports submitted by C. D. Buckland, chairman; Fred Macklin, secretary-treasurer; F. J. Orme, district superintendent; and A. F. G. Drake, building inspector.

The board agreed to continue their meetings on the second and fourth Thursday night of each month during 1964.

A. G. Pollard, trustee, agreed to fill in for C. D. Buckland at the upcoming library board's annual meeting later this month. Mr. Pollard is the school board's representative on the library board.

The board agreed to turn out in full force on the night of January 20 at Central elementary school's golden anniversary. The celebration will be held in the school's new activity room.

Fred Macklin said no word had as yet been received from the department of education in Victoria on Referendum No. 6.

With Mr. Macklin in the chair, the first business of the 1964 board was the election of a chairman.

The board granted permission for the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association to use the auditorium and gymnasium of Kelowna senior secondary school Feb. 27, 28 and 29 for their annual convention.

The board also granted to the O.V.T.A. use of George Elliot Junior-senior secondary school for the third and fourth weeks in July to conduct a math seminar and an English seminar.

After lengthy discussion, the board agreed to three conditions for appearances of two Mormon plaintiffs in district schools on Jan. 14, 15 and 16. There must be no religious overtones, students to attend concert on voluntary basis only and they must be held outside of school hours. This is also subject to an invitation being afforded the plaintiffs by principals of the schools.

The board decided to go ahead with an information meeting with members of the Teachers' Union committee. The committee requested the meeting to discuss topics of common interest.

Ken Fuhs, building committee chairman, said planned activity rooms for Winfield elementary and Rutland elementary schools were ready to go to bid but can't until Referendum No. 6 is approved as a portion of the costs are included in this referendum.

School Building Program Means "Busier Year Ahead"

A. F. G. Drake, building superintendent, said Thursday night's school board meeting was much busier than 1963 with the extensive building program planned.

In his annual report to the board he suggested all new school plans should first be submitted as preliminary plans, well ahead of the contemplated construction date.

"If we are to profit from past experience, then it is in the building field where considerable future saving can be achieved."

He said in the case of standard elementary school construction, the services of the architectural department at Victoria may be used but all plans should be closely checked for application to district conditions.

Supervision N N N

"All other buildings should be supervised by architects who can supply adequate supervision. Here also, preliminary plans should be submitted to careful scrutiny."

He said in B.C. there are many experienced school architects who could be asked to submit preliminary plans of various types of schools and if possible embody methods and ideas which have proved successful.

He cautioned against use of new methods and materials which results in experimental building, for which the architect disclaims responsibility.

If he is to be engaged as clerk of works for any of the new buildings, he said he would require some assistance in routine office work entailed by the maintenance program.

Mr. Drake said last year was the quietest in the last 10 years with only one construction job carried out.

In January, 1963, the repair and maintenance crew was reduced from 13 to seven over Mr. Drake's objection.

Mr. Porter stated to try the case before travelling Magistrate Gurnet of Chilliwack and said he intends to enter a not guilty plea. The official plea will be made Jan. 16.

In magistrate's court Thursday four persons received sentences and one case was dismissed.

Seth E. Dodman of Rutland pleaded guilty to an impaired driving charge and was fined $150 and costs and prohibited from driving for six months.

For selling liquor unlawfully, Stanley Ernest of Kelowna was sentenced to six months in jail. He pleaded guilty.

Passing on the right cost John York of Kelowna $15 and costs. He also pleaded guilty.

William Herbert Burrell of Summerland pleaded guilty to intoxication in a public place and was fined $15 and costs.

Alfred Morris Dixon of Kelowna pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving without due care and attention. The case was dismissed, as reasonable doubt existed.

Snow Continues In District Today

A building area of high pressure is clearing skies on the coast and this clearing trend will be evident in much of the southern interior tonight and Saturday as this high moves inward, the Vancouver weather bureau said today.

Meanwhile, snowflurries and colder air is edging southward through the central part of the province but the leading edge is expected to stall in the Cariboo.

Another storm will bring rain and gales to the north coast overnight but will weaken considerably as it moves south and eastward through the province Saturday.

The low and high yesterday in Kelowna was 22 and 34 with 31 inches of snow. Last year on the same date the high was 31 and the low dropped to 1 degree.

Okanagan, Lillooet and South Thompson will be cloudy with snow this morning, tonight and Saturday. Sunny this afternoon with a change in temperature. Winds southerly 15.

Low tonight and high Saturday at Penticton and Kamloops 20 and 32; Lytton 25 and 35.

Provincial Highways Plowed, Sanded

Snow covers most B.C. highways today and department of highway officials said.

Three-quarters of an inch of new snow fell on Okanagan sections of Highway 97. Sanding is in operation. This applies also to the side roads.

Highways are mostly bare in the Penticton area. Light snow covers the highway in Kamloops. Slippery sections are sanded. One inch of new snow fell on Cariboo roads.

Allison Pass has some compact snow. It is still snowing there, some slippery sections, sanded. Winter tires are required or carry chains. Princeton area has some compact snow, sanded.

Rogers Pass highway is plowed and sanded. Motorists must use winter tires or carry chains. Revelstoke section is plowed and sanded.

School Board Head Foresees College Referendum In '64

C. D. Buckland, chairman of the Kelowna School Board, predicted at Thursday night's inaugural school board meeting that 1964 will see a Valley-wide referendum asking residents if they want a college established in the Central Okanagan.

Included in his annual report for 1963 he urged expansion and enrichment of an Adult Education program. He said this type of program would allow for utilization of school facilities to the maximum.

Adult education is becoming a very important function of our school system. This district is now carrying on an adult education program of over 1,000 in our night school program," he said. "These students' role is no longer just the efficient and effective operation of the district's schools for pupils from Grades 1 to XIII."

Mr. Buckland said he was disappointed the two large adjoining school districts to the north and south have not yet agreed to join this district in establishing a regional college according to recommendations of the Macdonald Report.

"I am sure the public is not aware of efforts by this board in their attempts to convince and persuade other boards the building of a college in the centre of the Okanagan is in the best interests of education, students and the taxpayers. This is where it can most effectively serve the three larger student populations."

He predicted a college will be set up by districts co-operating together and "cooperation is something which cannot be forced."

Mr. Buckland recommended establishing the position of director of adult education on a half-time full-time basis. He suggested this person also be in charge of summer school. He said a better job, reaching more people had been accomplished in other districts under this system.

"The district school population has increased by approximately 800 students during the last two years," he said. "Indications are that it will increase at an accelerated rate in the next few years."

Trying to keep abreast of this expansion, the board will be asking ratepayers to approve a building referendum of $672,000 in the near future, he said. "Anything which might hold up putting this referendum would undoubtedly necessitate putting classes on shifts."

He touched on the recent teacher salary scale set by arbitration last month. He said neither side was in complete agreement unless the decision has given them exactly what they sought. "Nevertheless,"

Visitors Group Issues Pamphlet

John Dyck, chairman of the visitors and convention committee, said today a pamphlet of convention tips is available free of charge to any organization or persons considering planning a convention.

"This is one of the many services available from the visitors and convention committee," said Mr. Dyck. It is available from the visitors information office of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce.

Conventions are "good business" for everyone and when properly organized, they are a stimulating experience for hosts as well as visitors, the pamphlet states.

R. K. Gordon, co-ordinator of the visitors and convention committee said we should all promote conventions for Kelowna, to our organizations, to our friends, to business associates. "Together let us invite as many conventions to Kelowna as possible," said Mr. Gordon.

"The visitor and convention committee will help make the jobs of entertaining your organization simple and successful. We are ready to assist you with your planning and specific problems", Mr. Gordon said.

PEACHLAND — The annual general meeting of Branch 69, Royal Canadian Legion, Peachland was held on Monday night, Jan. 6.

A slate of officers was elected with J. G. Swift, of Westbank, as president, succeeding Robert Chapman, of Peachland, who retired after two years in office.

Chapman, all of Peachland.

Mr. C. MacNeill was appointed auditor and also took the chair for the election of officers.

The quarterly zone meeting of the South Okanagan will be held in Peachland, in March.

Membership cards for 1964 are available at the Peachland Post Office and from V. Norman, Westbank.

Secretary's Report Indicates New Office Department Possible

In the his annual report to the school board's Thursday night meeting, Fred Macklin, secretary-treasurer said 1963 student expenditure was almost identical to 1962.

"We may have to accept an annual increase of 400 to 500 students as normal and plan accordingly," he said.

Constant revisions in the school curriculum coupled with new buildings and equipment may necessitate a new central office department in the near future he said.

FRED MACKLIN

Some budget accounts will be automatically increased, due to more students, buildings and equipment. The instruction account which includes teachers and teaching supplies, is one. The operation account, which includes custodians, supplies, light, power, water, fuel and insurance is another.

Debt payments will also show a substantial increase he said. In 1963, $200,000 worth of bonds were sold and monies will have to be borrowed to finance the balance of the Referendum No. 3 program as 1964 progresses.

Relative estimates indicate an increase of around $30,000 gross over the 1963 budget.

"This would mean an increase of one to one and a half mills in taxation, depending on government sharing and the size of the assessment increase."

He reported three changes in central office personnel this past year and in two replacements, added more experienced help.

"In conjunction with our auditors, we have made changes in our accounting procedures resulting in maximum use of our accounting machine."

HIGH STANDARD

He said school office staffs are maintaining a high standard. But he advised that to compete for the best in all of the province, we must raise our standards.

The overall 1963 financial picture he termed good, and the budget generally adequate. Due to lack of space he said the board was unable to employ all the new teachers budgeted for 1963. This will give a larger surplus than usual, in the neighborhood of $60,000.

"Some of this will go to the credit of the government and some to offset our 1964 budget," he said. It was difficult now to accurately assess the 1964 budget or its impact on the district. Final reviews of estimates have not yet been made by board committees and the total district assessment is not yet available.

Accommodation Need, Critical Says School Superintendent

F. J. Orme, district school superintendent, in his 1963 report to the board's Thursday night meeting said the basic critical need in the year is for additional accommodation.

"This proposed referendum will take care of the district's immediate requirements for elementary pupils. But all aspects of the building program will have to be handled most expeditiously if new classrooms are to be ready for school opening in September."

He said the impact of the Chant Report's new secondary school program will be much more obvious this year.

CONSIDER CHANGES

"The board will be asked to consider the changes involved and determine how they will be effected in this district. The decisions made will be reflected in a further referendum on additional secondary accommodation required by September 1965."

In September 1959, the district had a student enrolment of 5,413 pupils. In September 1960, 5,617, an increase of 204. September 1961, it jumped 174 to 5,791 and September 1962 it rose 333 to 6,124. Last September's figure stood at 6,557, a hike of 433.

The greatest impact of this increase was in the city of Kelowna and Rutland areas.

TWO METHODS

Two methods were used to accommodate the additional pupils; new or temporary classrooms, increasing the size of the classes.

The latter method was more common. About one-third of all classes had 36 or more pupils.

He said the number of new students from the prairie provinces, particularly Alberta, showed a substantial increase over previous years.

In 1963, three new classrooms and an activity room were opened in Central elementary school. Temporary classrooms were opened in Central and Graham elementary schools in Kelowna and at Rutland elementary school. The one-room portable school was moved from Oyam to Glenmore elementary school in September.

EFFICIENT TRANSPORTATION

Mr. Orme said pupil transportation has operated efficiently. Twelve buses on 23 routes carry 1,240 pupils to and from school each day. Distance travelled daily by these vehicles is 622 miles.

Occupational classes were established at Kelowna junior secondary and Rutland secondary schools in September 1962. A total of 63 pupils are enrolled in four classes.

Summer school classes were offered for the second year encompassing 179 students. Adult education classes attracted 1,043 for 65 courses during 1962-63.

HIKE IN TEACHERS

Last year the number of teachers employed in the district increased from 240 to 251. New teachers appointed numbered 48 and 18 were transferred to new posts within the district. Four teachers are on leave of absence.

Six district schools saw a change in principals.

He said four elementary classes for slow learners continued to do good work with those pupils who have great difficulty with the regular program.

GOOD RESULTS

Five schools presented candidates for the university entrance examinations. Results were again significantly above average he said. The number writing on scholarships was average. "These candidates made a commendable showing."

Mr. Orme said other matters the board will have to consider include, a school for school-age retarded children, provision of additional buses, establishment of an additional slow learner class, formation of another major work class, future of adult education program, additional supervision of instruction and summer school.

Pink Slips Recognized In All Provinces Now

A few months ago this newspaper created something of a minor disturbance when it pointed out that motorists should not place too much confidence in their pink slips as they were not recognized in many other provinces.

Now, apparently, this has been remedied. A few days ago it was announced from Victoria that the provinces had gotten together and agreed upon a pink slip which would be recognized from Olander, Newfoundland to Fort Alberni. The new slips will be issued shortly.

This means that the motorists may drive with complete confidence that his automobile insurance will be recognized in all ten provinces.

The attaining of the common pink slip was not as easy as it seemed. The various provinces had various regulations and differing legislation. Some general compromise had to be worked out and in some cases legislation had to be changed or must be changed.

Credit for the innovation must go to the superintendents of the motor vehicle acts of the various provinces. But credit must also be given the several insurance companies which were involved.

Unfortunately, the arrangement does not yet extend to the United States, where as yet a similar reciprocal arrangement has not been made between the states. It was difficult enough to get ten provinces together, but getting fifty states to agree will be more than five times as difficult.

The nationally-recognized pink slip is something of a major achievement and it will bring peace of mind to motorists who venture out of their own province into another. The B.C. motor vehicle branch is to be congratulated for the part it has played in this very sensible innovation.

Pope Paul's Journey

Pope Paul's pilgrimage to the Holy Land focused the world's attention on a region whose hates and violence should prick the consciences of all religious people.

Stones tablets found in Egypt, which date back to about 1500 B.C., refer to Urushalimu, which means the City of Peace. This is the Jerusalem that Christians, Jews and Moslems all hold sacred. Three thousand five hundred years after the Egyptian chisel chipped out this hopeful name, Jerusalem is, in fact, a city of hate. This is a terrible indictment of all who profess brotherhood under God.

Jerusalem is divided between warring Israel and Jordan. Making a journey from one group of shrines to another is as difficult as penetrating the Communist wall in Berlin. This is a conflict between Moslems and Jews. But Christian groups which profess to follow the same Prince of Peace are often at each other's throats as they divide attendance at the birthplace of their Savior in Bethlehem and at Calvary where He died.

Progress has been made in recent years to reduce the suspicions and in some instances outright hatred displayed by religious groups. Among Protestants and Orthodox Christians the ecumenical movement has made great headway. Under Pope John XXIII and Pope Paul VI, the Roman Catholic Church has taken broad steps toward better understanding and unity among all Christians and to some degree among all men. Pope Paul's journey to the Holy Land, the first undertaken by a pope since Saint Peter escaped from prison there more than 1,900 years ago to make his way eventually to Rome and martyrdom, is made in "search and hope," in Paul's words.

No one can hope for a miracle converting Jerusalem from a city of war to one of peace because the head of the Roman Catholic Church spent a few hours there. But the talks between the Pope of Rome and Patriarch Athenagoras on the historic Mount of Olives should further the cause of understanding and unity. These are the first meetings between a pope and an Orthodox patriarch in more than 500 years.

If the pilgrimage, in addition, has caused some persons of the various religions involved to consider the tragic irony of the City of Hate, which should be the City of Peace, its value will be compounded.

Morale Of The Feet

(Portland Oregonian)

Does the color of a man's shoes affect his morale? The top admirals of the U.S. Navy say so.

Officers and chiefs of the Navy wear brown shoes with their summer khakis. If they would wear black shoes all the year round, as do the other services, says the General Accounting Office, the taxpayers would save an estimated $153,000 a year. The GOA says it costs about $1,300 a year extra to handle each of 102 sizes in Navy browns.

This internal battle of the shoes has, incredibly, been going on since 1957, after both the Army and the Air Force had agreed to wear black with all uniforms. Early in 1963, the Marine Corps, breaking with its naval parent, agreed to abandon summer browns for blacks. But the Navy is adamant, defending the summer browns as tenaciously as it does its shipyards.

The issue is now in the hands of Secretary of Defense McNamara and may well go to President Johnson and the Congress for settlement.

Unity in the U.S. armed forces? It would stump a Solomon.

Short Takes

West Berliners who have lived on their nerve in the divided city these many years have developed their own, delightful sense of humor.

According to a recent publication, one joke currently making the rounds in Berlin concerns the story of two East Berliners who were discussing what they would do if their Communist masters ever removed the Berlin wall.

"I would climb the highest tree," said one to the other.

Asked "why" by his companion, he replied, "to avoid being trampled to death in the rush to get out, naturally."

Herein, of course, lies the irony of the working man's utopia that Communism is trying to fashion behind the iron curtain. Given their free choice, the vast majority of those for whose express benefit the Communist state is ostensibly being constructed would gladly give the communist paradise back to Marx and Lenin.

RAIDING THE CARCASS

Man With Blue Pencil Eager In Many Parts Of World Still

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The man with the blue pencil still whisks away in many parts of the world.

In an annual survey The Associated Press asked its correspondents around the world to report on censorship conditions affecting the free flow of news across international boundaries.

They found the censor hard at work on outgoing dispatches and even harder in many places on the domestic press, radio and television outlets.

Some places reported gains in the constant battle to maintain freedom of information. Others chalked up losses.

In some of the newly independent countries of Africa freedom of the press as known in the Western world became a first target of fledgling governments. In the turbulent Middle East, governments changed hands but the censor stayed on the job.

But the traditional censor is not the only foe of a free flow of information. Just as effective is censorship at the source—a reluctance of responsible officials to talk to newspaper men, or even to make themselves available to answer questions.

In detail, these are the findings of the AP correspondents:

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

HOLIDAY — WHY?

Sir: I was glad to read your editorial of Jan. 8 "Who Authorized Holiday For City Staff — And Why?"

Other taxpayers, too, had already taken notice of above. I understand letters have already been written to the mayor, also aldermen, for an explanation.

It is to be presumed, that were Christmas to fall on Sunday, the City Council would grant employees the balance of the week to take as holidays on full pay. All at double rate of pay "if" called upon to work.

Of course, it is the taxpayer who always pays.

I was surprised to note in the Courier, the amount of pay for this "holiday," amounted to around $1,000. It also could have been double, had employees been required to work. The City has been known as a depressed area. It cannot be if our city is so generous to our employees.

I notice unions representing our city employees, do not think it such, when they make demands and threats of strike for increases of pay. Do they study the city finances? No!

Our cross walks are in a filthy condition to cross. $4,000 would pay for a lot of sand, to aid taxpayers.

Many persons, too, wondered at so many of our stores closed on Jan. 2, Bernard Ave. was thick with people, many asking "Why are the stores closed today?"

Evidently the merchants did a wonderful Christmas business. They needed that day to count up their profits.

Let us hope, no depression ever comes to our Valley so that our city is able to continue generous holidays to their employees at the taxpayers' expense.

KOOTENAY PROTEST

Sir: I have heard and read from two or three sources that apartments are to be built along the shore of your city. As one who can remember Kelowna for many years, I am very disappointed. That would ruin the beauty you have built and the character you have made for your city.

Especially since the zoning scheme was brought into effect, many of the untidy parts have been cleaned up; homes and gardens have been built and grown in their place so now Kelowna and Abbott St. in particular has become known far and wide for its beauty. Friends here have often spoken of my home town as "the one with so many beautiful trees and gardens."

If apartment houses are going to spring up between those homes, maybe the occupants will enjoy their location but Kelowna will lose its great attraction to tourists.

Believe me, many from these parts have said they will and drive through Kelowna because of her park-like appearance and the splendid view one can see up and down the lake. So may it ever be.

Yours sincerely,
A VOICE FROM THE KOOTENAYS.

NOT GUILTY?

Sir: Canadians generally believe they get the news, that their news media zealously guard the right to present it to them. Not like in Russia. Where, it is alleged, Moscow can use the technique of the time lag. "Russians still do not know," some vital news, we have been gleefully told.

Why, then, has Canada not been getting the startling news that Lee Oswald is very possibly not guilty?

The story broke in the Dec. 10 issue of the National Guardian, New York. The Times took it up that day. In Italy, Rome's largest evening paper went at it full blast. It was published in Paris and Mexico. And the Japanese press took it up. But not Canada.

By this time every newspaper editor in Canada knows about it, but not their readers. What is the answer of the Canadian Press?

Yours sincerely,
ALEC C. BEASLEY, Winfield.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—Our impression is that Mr. Beasley is wrong. Certainly we have read several supposition stories on this subject, and, although we have not checked, think some of them were published in this newspaper. Of course the first official indication that Oswald may not have been the man was the report of the Warren commission which was released this week.

patches, but the authorities receive copies and submit pressure is applied. Reporters who have voiced criticism of Portuguese policies in Africa have been refused travel visas to Portugal's African territories.

Spain imposes no censorship on outgoing news but the ministry of information gets copies and at times expresses irritation. Censorship at the source has eased in the last year. A modified censorship prevails over the domestic press.

In France censorship continues at the source. There is a sense of relaxation in the aftermath of the Algerian conflict.

West Germany exercises no press censorship. In West Berlin, news controls can be imposed at any time under the military occupation.

The situation in Britain remains unchanged, with no censorship or other restrictions.

AFRICA

Newly independent Kenya moved swiftly to put discrimination of news under government control. An official news agency is being operated with the help of Communist-supplied equipment and personnel.

Tight censorship remains in Ghana—no dispatch can be sent out of the country without the censor's stamp. In the case of some newspapers considered by the government to be "unfriendly," dispatches are rejected without being read.

The situation is entirely different in Nigeria, where there is no censorship of any kind.

In Dahomey there is no direct censorship but three copies of each dispatch are required at the cable office.

South Africa, at odds with its newly independent neighbors on racial segregation issues, imposes no censorship on outgoing dispatches. But the government has the power to refuse visas to correspondents or withhold work permits. Segregated African areas and townships are not generally opened to reporters and permits to visit them are seldom granted.

MIDDLE EAST

Governments continue to erect blocks against the free flow of news from the Middle East. In addition to censorship there is a constant battle against secrecy and threats.

In the United Arab Republic censorship of outgoing news has been lifted, but censorship at the source is tight. Government sources are minimal and contacts with foreign newspaper men are discouraged. But pressure on the correspondent has eased considerably. The local press, radio and TV are controlled.

ASIA

Communist China exercises no direct censorship on the few Western correspondents permitted in Peking. But they are controlled effectively, and their travels kept within strict bounds, and most official news sources closed to them. Chinese press and radio are under complete control.

Nationalist China does not censor outgoing dispatches but newspapers on Formosa do not criticize government policy.

Japan is free of censorship as to both outgoing dispatches and what appears in newspapers.

LATIN AMERICA

Restraints popped up at times in Venezuela during 1963, but the overall situation is showing improvement.

Brazil is relatively free of censorship.

The situation in Cuba is pretty much the same—restrictions are placed on communications from time to time, and foreign correspondents are usually restricted to Havana.

OTTAWA REPORT

One Lonely Wish Would Be For Peace

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
Daily Courier Ottawa Bureau

If the average Canadian was given one wish, he would probably—especially if he is a father—wish for peace: permanent peace on acceptable terms with no future threat of war. Many people in many lands would use one wish the same way—even in Russia.

Our present state of "peaceful co-existence" between two heavily armed camps is called a cold war; in fact it is the risk of a nuclear death. Remember that during the Cuban crisis about one year ago, our then Foreign Secretary one day declared in all sincerity that, when he went to bed the previous night, he had not expected to wake up again; he had anticipated that Toronto and Montreal and Vancouver and other cities in Canada and elsewhere would be obliterated by unhesitant nuclear attacks during the night. Remember too that military experts have estimated that such an attack unleashed by one of the great nuclear powers would trigger 60 minutes of reciprocal horror which would leave 36 million people dead and our globe largely uninhabitable.

MUST ASK REAL PEACE

There are surely more happy ways of loving one's neighbor and even of turning the other cheek.

But we exist on a precipice, a dangerous precipice over which mankind may be pushed, a costly precipice which demands so much wasteful expenditure of our taxes and of our resources and of the skill of our scientists, which could be applied to more humanitarian ends. We should leave no stone unturned to climb away from this precipice while yet preserving our freedoms. And I believe that the people on the other side of this precipice feel the same.

So when Russia's Premier, Nikita Khrushchev, last week wrote a letter to the heads of western governments appealing for steps to ensure peace, I did not sleep my sleep of the night when it was reported that U.S.A.'s Foreign Secretary Dean

Rusk had given a brusque reception to this too-hold which deserved study.

Russia's ambassador, Ilya Shapovalov delivered a similar letter to Prime Minister Pearson—in Russian with an "unofficial translation" in English. Mr. Pearson, renowned as a skilled and conciliatory diplomat, reacted less coolly than Mr. Rusk, and appeared to detect in it a ray of hope for peace. But nobody else had been told exactly what the letter said.

NEW RUSSIAN LINE?

So I spoke to Ambassador Shapovalov and asked for a copy of this letter addressed to the heads of government in Canada, Britain, France, U.S.A. and many other countries. Yet there was one other copy of the "unofficial translation," so my intuitive paid off and I surprisingly obtained the document which every journalist and every ambassador in Ottawa would have liked to see.

If its words mean what they say, it is an eye-opening letter. It is an offer and an appeal to resuscitate war as a means of settling territorial disputes. It describes the historical danger to world peace of even the smallest boundary dispute, and stresses how this can escalate into global war. The message is far too long to be quoted in this space. But I can honestly say that it appears to indicate a new line of thinking in the Kremlin.

Russia now buys bread before bombs. Khrushchev's Russia, in contrast to Stalin's Russia, will not compel its citizens to die from hunger rather than speed on what the gold which could be used to build some of the day's necessities.

The Moscow Treaty banning nuclear tests in the air and sea has made a start towards "general and complete disarmament," to quote Khrushchev's stated objective. Every word must be explored to keep up that progress, or we will lapse back into uncontrolled nuclear arm race. The letter may be a turning point for the world.

Cook Pork Well To Kill Larvae

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Should children be fed extremely rare meat? I am old-fashioned I know, but I thought I was doing it. In fact, we were told we would get pinworms from eating rare meat — MRS. D.W.S.

Raw meat is not a source of pinworms, but it can result in other types of worms.

Pork can cause trichinosis, or infestation with a worm which lays eggs, then when this batch, the larvae burrow into muscle tissue in many parts of the body.

Thorough cooking destroys these worms — so never, under any circumstances, eat pork unless it is well done.

Larvae and eggs are different. They do not come from meat-eating animals, as the threat of trichinosis is not present.

But they can be the source of tapeworms at times.

They should be reasonably well-cooked to eliminate this risk.

By that I mean they should be cooked at least to what we call medium rare, for people who like meat that way.

"Very rare" means uncooked at the centre. This can be potentially harmful. Not all beef or lamb will have tapeworms, of course, in which the rare meat eaters are lucky. But what we are concerned with is avoiding the occasional risk.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about the removal of an ovary? I have two girls, one born before my operation and one after. Does this mean I will have only girls? — MRS. H.T.T.

No, it doesn't. You may have only girls — or you may have nine boys from now on. It isn't the ovaries, but the chromosomes in one of the cells, which control the sex.

Dear Dr. Molner: Are spicy foods bad for the complexion? What is good for skin blemishes? Do you recommend soap and hot water? — M.T.

I don't think that spicy foods cause skin blemishes. But I DO think that an ingrained taste for such foods, to the exclusion of a more ordinary diet, may have an effect.

Soap and warm (not hot) water are helpful, and used regularly and preferably with the top off, but it isn't itself and grows again. The only way to get rid of a cyst permanently is to remove it.

Dear Dr. Molner: My bladder doesn't empty completely. Even though I urinate often, the amount voided is very small. This is caused by the prostate gland? Someone told me an operation might be necessary. I am 60. — M.B.

This is a common result of an enlarged prostate. The cause is not known but it happens to a great many men. The surgery likewise is common, and your age certainly is not a barrier to it.

Ice Palace Locale On Main Street For Carnival If Council Approves

VERNON (Staff) — The 1964 Winter Carnival ice palace will be located on Vernon's main street, if city council approves.

The palace committee chairman Hayden Stump announced today the location of the palace has been changed by public demand. During the three previous carnivals the palace was located in Polson Park.

"This is only tentative," said Mr. Stump. "Until we get city council approval on the main street, we expect some decision to be handed down at next Monday's regular city council meeting."

"If council approves, it will be located at the intersection of Bernard Ave. and 28th Street, or possibly on the Canadian Pacific Railway, passing between 28th and 29th streets."

"The front of the palace will face east to enable spectators to get a better view, and the back portion of the palace will face west and will be decorated with colored lights to give it greater effect from the downtown business section," he said. City architect Drew Allen has released the preliminary drawing of this year's ice palace, which will be the setting for Queen Silver Star IV's coronation ceremonies slated for opening night, Feb. 1.

90 BLOCKS
The palace will be constructed of 90 ice blocks, and the total weight will be 20 tons, only half the weight of the 1963 carnival palace in which 170 blocks of ice were used. "Weather permitting, the construction will start in the last week of January," said Mr. Stump.

Multi-color flags and banners and lights will add decoratively to the three-level palace of gleaming ice crystals, upon which the queen's throne will be situated on the highest level. The palace will be 30 feet in width and 20 feet in depth, and reach a height of some 25 feet above the throne.

"This year's palace is smaller than those constructed for the three previous carnivals," said Mr. Stump.

The first event of the Winter Carnival will be the princess' snowflake reception to be held Jan. 25, at the banquet hall of the National Hotel, from 3-5 p.m. The reception, to which the general public is invited, will afford persons an opportunity to meet the eight Queen Silver Star candidates, one of whom will be crowned Queen Silver Star IV at the annual snowflake ball being held at 8 p.m. Jan. 31 in the senior high school auditorium.

Queen contestants seeking the coveted title are: Charlene Kibbler, Miss Canadian Legion; Pat Shindake, Miss Gryo; Helga Pansegrau, Miss Jaycee; Deanna Hale, Miss Kimmie; Marjorie Jean Bishop, Miss Kiwanis; Jill Green, Miss Knights of Pythias; Wendy Wallace, Miss Lions; Bernice Ketterer, Miss Teen Town.

Returning royalty include Queen Silver Star III Joanne Thorlakson, and princesses Elaine Giza and Jean Black.

Invitations have been extended to 35 reigning queens in the Pacific Northwest to attend the opening weekend festivities of the carnival. They will be welcomed at a special buffet supper on Feb. 1, attend the coronation ceremony, and later attend the coronation reception at 8 p.m. in the Royal Canadian Legion auditorium.

The following day they will participate in the annual carnival parade at 1 p.m., later attending a luncheon sponsored by the City of Vernon and later still, they will attend the "Snowflake Ball" in the Legion auditorium, starting at 8 p.m. sponsored by the Vernon Teen Town.

STAR TRIP
Sunday plans include a trip to Silver Star mountain to the ski slopes and a farewell snowflake dinner being presented by the Women's Auxiliary to the Vernon Jubilee Hospital, who represent the visiting queens' committee.

A highlight of the 1964 carnival will be the giant carnival parade, Feb. 8. The parade will include floats, queens and bands and will assemble on 27th street at 12 noon with leaving at 1 p.m. The parade route will be south on 27th street to Bernard Ave. and then proceed west on Bernard in front of the thousands of spectators expected to view the colorful event.

A tremendous amount of interest has been shown by surrounding municipalities intending to participate, according to Vernon Jaycee officials, sponsors of the parade.

Judging will decide the best commercial, automotive and industrial, commercial, city and communities, fraternal organizations and service clubs, drill teams, bands, and junior entry winners. Cash awards will again be offered to bands and drill teams, fraternal organizations and service clubs.

The theme of the 1964 winter carnival parade will be "Land of Fair Tales." Carnival chairman William Malcolm advised today that the 1964 winter carnival brochure is now on sale at most city stores. It contains 50 pages of information governing all activities scheduled for this year's festival.

Former Suitor Faces Charge
A former suitor of Jill Berkley has been charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency in connection with the disappearance of the Merritt girl New Year's eve.

Miss Berkley, 16, and Wolfgang Schneider, 24, were found by RCMP Wednesday night in a small cabin near Vavenby, 85 miles north of Kamloops. The girl was returned to her home today. Schneider is being held by RCMP.

Miss Berkley was last seen New Year's eve when Schneider offered her and a girl friend a ride home. The friend was dropped at her home, then the pair disappeared.

The girl's mother told police her daughter became engaged to a Merritt youth six weeks ago.

She said Jill told her of a jealous rejected suitor shortly before she disappeared.

Schneider came to Canada from Germany four years ago and arrived here about seven months ago after working in the Vavenby area.

GAVE HER RIDE
In an interview, Jill said Schneider, a boarder in the Berkley home, in neighboring Colletville was giving her a ride home when he just decided to "take off" with her New Year's eve.

She said she had become engaged to another boy and Schneider had said before that one day he was going to leave and take her with him.

"There were no threats," she thought he would take her home soon, that he was just trying to scare her.

COOL HEAD
When Schneider did not turn back, Jill said she kept a cool head and did nothing to antagonize him.

"We slept in the car and we didn't eat for the first two days, then we got some food from the Louis Creek store and we lived on that for the rest of the time."

Jill said she was not harmed by the ordeal but she was very tired. She planned to return to school and mark the incident on to experience.

COVERED ENTRANCES A FEATURE
This three-bedroom, split-level house by architect A. Handels of Toronto, has the carport so arranged that the entrance through both the front door of the living room and the kitchen is under cover. The kitchen is open and this, together with the slope of the living room ceiling which follows the roof line, increases the apparent size of the living room. There is a separate dining area which could be screened off from the living area. Two of the bedrooms are large and the master bedroom also has a separate entrance to the centrally located bathroom. The front door of this house should face north. The floor area is 1,200 square feet, excluding the carport, and the exterior dimensions are 47 feet by 34 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 169, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Wood Bleach First Move In Changing Table Color

QUESTION: We have a round golden oak dining table with a shiny varnish finish. After we remove the present finish, how can we refinish for a limed oak effect?

ANSWER: Bleach the bare wood with a prepared commercial wood bleach, following label directions carefully. Then, with the grain, liberally brush on white or light gray paste filler, thinned with turpentine to the consistency of thick paint. In about 20 minutes, when the filler begins to set, wipe the surface across the grain with a coarse cloth. Allow what remains on the wood to dry hard; then smooth surface by rubbing with very fine sandpaper. Wipe off dust and finish with light-colored varnish.

ADHESIVE ON SILLS
QUESTION: I put adhesive backed, plastic-coated paper on the bedroom window sills to protect them from soot and city grime. Before repainting the room, I removed the paper but found the adhesive stuck to the sill. It seems impossible to remove the sticky coating. What can you recommend?

ANSWER: Try removing the adhesive with fine steel wool and a non-flammable liquid spot remover or acetone.

SUN DECK FLOORING
QUESTION: We are adding a carport to our house and would like to be able to use the roof as a sun deck. What do you recommend using for the roof that could also serve as satisfactory flooring material?

ANSWER: Cover the carport roof with special roofing canvas available at roofing dealers; follow manufacturer's directions for installation.

UPHOLSTERY
QUESTION: We saw a leather upholstered arm chair which we liked very much but hesitated to get it because we weren't too sure about the care the leather might require. Does leather upholstery require much maintenance care?

ANSWER: No; modern leather upholstery is finished to be stain resistant and requires little care; dusting whenever other furniture is dusted. When dirt shows the leather is washed with a mild soap and a minimum of water, soapy water being wiped off with a damp cloth. No wax, polish or oils should be used on leather. Most stains disappear with mild soap and water.

Dashdorji Has No Troubles When He Wants To Move Home

TSETSERLEG, Mongolia (AP)—Dashdorji lives in a yurt. In the spring he takes the canvas and then the felt off its wooden frame, dismantles the frame and in about 30 minutes is ready to move his home. He mounts his small, rugged Mongolian horse and drives 130 cows to summer pasture. There, Dashdorji puts up the circular yurt — about 16 feet across — in about 40 minutes and moves in. When autumn comes he moves again. Dashdorji's ancestors have been living this way in Mongolia for centuries. But Dashdorji is no primitive nomad. He sleeps in a metal-frame bed and listens to a battery-operated radio. His wife has a sewing machine. His 20-year-old son is studying geology in Moscow. Another son, 15, is studying to be an engineer in Ulan Bator, the capital of the Mongolian People's Republic.

DAUGHTER WILL LEAVE
In four years his daughter now 4, will leave home to attend school at the headquarters of a co-operative of which Dashdorji is a member.

The co-operative is about 25 miles west of Tsetserleg, a provincial capital of about 13,000 persons, and 325 miles west of Ulan Bator.

Dashdorji is currently camping in a mountain-rimmed meadow more than a mile high. Ten of the cows are owned by four families, the other 120 by the co-operative—part of the co-operative's 84,000 head of livestock on 1,228,000 acres. Dashdorji is paid for tending the cows.

He looks prosperous and happy with his outdoor life. He

Italian Provincial Style Exciting Furniture Trend

If your taste is for traditional furniture and yet you're not quite ready to go "all out" take a look at the fresh Canadian furniture inspired by Italian provincial designs. The classic lines of Italian provincial can be the answer for the woman who is looking toward traditional heritage for her new furnishings and who also likes contemporary themes.

Decorators agree that Italian provincial is the traditional design closest to contemporary styling. For this reason it blends well with practically any style grouping and offers scope for your mix-and-match expression of individuality. When you look at the new and exciting Italian provincial groupings in your favorite store, you'll find decorative furniture from other traditional design sources.

You can recognize Italian provincial first by its distinctive leg, a straight, tapered one like a column, with a sharp-corner foot. Other design details, such as on the exposed wood frame of a chair, and table and on the front of chests and dressers, are classical in character, adapting motifs from architectural forms of the past.

These details can be such things as carved geometric fretwork, rosettes, carved moldings or contrasting wood bandings around drawers and doors. Often, various types of swirling patterns are carved into the wood. A popular motif is "dentil" molding, a classical decorative design of small rectangular blocks, with spaces between. Curves, when they appear, are smooth and graceful, not as elaborate or as often repeated as on French provincial, for example. Ornamentation, as on antique metal hardware, is restrained.

Historically, Italian provincial is a term applied to furniture turned out by rural craftsmen in the 16th and 17th centuries, who copied the more elaborate "court" furniture, but simplified the lines and eliminated decoration. Similarly, Canadian designers have adapted the traditional design to interpret it for our way of life. Thus the rectangular simplicity we associate with contemporary lines, is enriched through restrained decoration.

The wearing of wigs dates back as far as ancient Egypt, and Egyptian mummies have been found wearing them.

Genetist Claims Adam Half Colored

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Were Adam and Eve white or non-white? Dr. Walter E. Lammer, a plant genetist and founder of the Creation Research Society, gave the answer Thursday to the California State Board of Education: "Nobody knows, of course, but I think Adam and Eve were a sort of in-between color, and some people grew lighter and some darker."

OLD COUNTRY SOCCER

By: MAC HOOD

LONDON CORRESPONDENT OF THE DAILY COURIER

LONDON—Boxing Day of 1963 will go down into soccer history in England as the day of crazy scores, freak results and the massacre of goalkeepers. Ten first division matches were played on that day. And in them 66 goals were scored, a record for any one day's matches in the 100 years of organized football.

Blackburn led the way with a 10-1 victory over Luton. Ipswich, surprisingly in last place in the table, Blackburn Rovers came to London and went back with an 8-2 victory over West Ham. Liverpool scored six goals against Stoke and Burnley scored six against Manchester United. Chelsea scored five against Blackburn, and Tottenham and West Bromwich Albion shared eight goals between them in a 4-4 draw.

TOP SCORERS

Graham Leggat of Fulham, Andy Lockwood of Burnley, and Roger Hunt of Liverpool led the day's scorers with four goals each. Leggat scored three of his within three minutes. Picking of Blackburn, Middlesbrough, Blackpool and Huddersfield of Fulham scored three goals each.

Not a result of all this goal scoring was to give Blackburn a one-point lead over Tottenham at the head of the first division, with Liverpool now only one point behind the Spurs.

BLACK SPOT

There was one black spot in the day's proceedings. Four players were ordered off the field for questionable tactics. Most noteworthy of the offenders was Pat Crawford, Scottish international wing and of Manchester United. This makes him the fifth United player to be ordered off the field since the start of the present season. The others being Noel Cantwell, Dave Ford, Albert Quinn and Keith Law, who is now about half way through his 25-day suspension. This record is quite out of character for a team like Manchester United, and it is now being regarded as one of the toughest playing teams in the league. United's hope is that Crawford will be given a much shorter period of suspension than the 25 days meted out to Denis Law, and that is quite likely as he has had a clean record up to date.

FEW CHANGES

Boxing Day games made no changes in the standings at the top of the other three divisions in England. Sunderland and Leeds played a 1-1 draw, so Leeds are still three points ahead of Sunderland and Preston, who climbed into a second place by winning 4-0 at Cardiff.

Coventry were held to a 1-1 draw at Grimsby, while Oldham were winning 4-0 over Notts County. So Coventry's lead has been cut to five points. Third place Crystal Palace lost 2-1 at Southend, so are now two points behind Oldham.

Gillingham won their game at Chesterfield 2-0 while Crystal Palace were drawing 2-2 at Wokingham. So Gillingham now have a one-point lead in the fourth division. Exeter and Wokingham are tied for third place three points behind.

Rangers Hot, Chicago Cold That's How NHL Wind Blows

New York Rangers are hot, impaired vision after suffering Chicago Black Hawks are cold. A 10-0 blow out when struck by and that's the way things went, a stick held by New York's Phil in the National Hockey League. Goeyette late in the second period.

Rangers made it four straight victories with a 5-3 win over Boston Bruins. While Chicago bowed to Detroit Red Wings by the same score.

The loss was the third in the last four games for the league-leading Hawks.

Jacques Plante was strong in the Rangers net, making 48 saves while his mates tested Boston goalie Ed Johnston only 31 times.

Red Gilbert, Camille Henry, Al Langlois, Vic Hadfield and Jim Neilson shared the scoring for New York.

LOSE 10 STRAIGHT

Tom Johnson, Bobby Litter and Dean Prentice found the mark for the Bruins who have been unable to win a game in their last 10 starts.

Attendance at Boston Gardens was a low 6,739.

Boston's Ed Westfall was taken to hospital complaining of

Hawks Win Six Positions On Midway "Dream Team"

MONTREAL (CP) — Not unexpectedly, Chicago Black Hawks took a man-sized share of the positions in midway voting for the National Hockey League all-stars.

The Hawks, in first place for most of the first half of the season, won six of the 12 spots on the two teams, announced by the NHL Thursday night. They placed four men on the first team, including Bobby Hull, who was the only player to receive 90 points, the maximum possible.

The teams, with points received:

First team: Goal — Glenn Hall, Chicago, 88; defence — Pierre Pilote, Chicago, 88; center — Jean Beliveau, Montreal, 82; right wing — Ken Wharram, Chicago, 76; left wing — Hull, 90.

Second team: Goal — Johnny Bower, Toronto, 20; defence — Elmer Vasko, Chicago, 54; and Bob Baun, Toronto, 17; center — Stan Mikita, Chicago, 60; right wing — Gordie Howe, Detroit, 45; left wing — Frank Mahovlich, Toronto, 2nd Dave Balon, Montreal, 25.

Sports writers and sportscasters in the six NHL cities chose the teams, with the voting compiled on a basis of five points for a first-place ballot, three for a second and one for third.

CASH FOR NOBODIES

Each of the players named to the first team will receive $500 and those on the second team $250. Balon and Mahovlich, tied for the second team left-wing spot, will each receive $250.

There will be another vote at the end of the regular schedule and those selected will receive $500 and $250 for first or second team berths. In the overall compilation of the two votes, first-team members will receive $1,000 each and second-team players $500.

DISQUALIFIED FOR MISSING GATE

'No Deals Involving Bathgate' Say Ranger Heads Of Trade

TORONTO (CP)—New York Rangers vice-president and general manager, Muzz Patrick, says Rangers are not trading All-Star right winger Andy Bathgate.

"Management of the Rangers has no deals pending at this time involving the trading of Andy Bathgate or any other players on its current roster," Patrick said Thursday night after Rangers defeated Boston Bruins 5-3 for their fourth win in a row.

Patrick, commenting on reports that Bathgate was involved in a New York-Toronto deal, said he "certainly intends to keep Bathgate, one of the great hockey players of all time."

"Despite any rumors to the contrary no trades are being made and the Rangers management has complete confidence in the team's ability to make the playoffs," he said.

Sports editor Milt Dunnell of the Toronto Star said a trade involving Bathgate and two or three Toronto players was in the works.

He said the Toronto club has offered left winger Dick Duff and right winger Bob Nevin, and possibly spare defenceman Kent Douglas, in exchange for the veteran Bathgate.

LEAPS INTERESTED

Stafford Smythe, Maple Leaf Gardens president, said Thursday Leafs have been interested in Bathgate for many years. He said he had "never thought" of a deal involving Duff, Nevin and Douglas, but he said any time he meets Ranger officials, he always asks: "Any deals in mind?"

Dave Anderson, hockey writer with the New York Journal-American, wrote Thursday that "in one of the most daring moves in recent Ranger history, the front office is contemplating trading super star Bathgate. It might happen in a few days or a few weeks."

Patrick said: "I can't deny that we've talked to other clubs about Bathgate, but we haven't got Bathgate on the block at all."

Dunnell said Rangers would be willing to give up Bathgate in exchange for muscle on their forward lines, which Nevin, Duff and veteran forward Ron Stewart, also rumored going to Rangers, would provide.

Bathgate is fifth in scoring in the league this year with 11 goals and 27 assists. Duff and Nevin have six goals apiece, a disappointing performance for the team. Stewart, on the bench much of the season, has three goals.

Ramos Changing If He Triumphs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Featherweight champion Sugar Ramos may desert his division if he beats lightweight Vincente Derrado in a non-title 10-round televised fight tonight.

The 21-year-old undefeated champion is having weight problems and believes he can whip lightweight king Carlos Ortiz.

After tonight's scrap, Ramos travels to Tokyo to defend his title against Mitsunori Saki March 1.

Depending on the result of tonight's encounter with the rugged Derrado, Ramos may seek a title bout with Ortiz.

Derrado, a 27-year-old Argentinian, boasts a record of 65 wins and 14 losses in a seven-year career. He has never been knocked out and is ranked third among lightweights.

The oddsmakers have installed Ramos as a 2-to-1 favorite.

Their reasoning is based on Ramos' record of 45 wins, including 23 knockouts, and only two draws.

Former Champions Take Heat And Win

BRISBANE (AP)—Former Wimbledon champions Fred Stolle and Bob Hewitt overcame an early shock and 100-degree temperatures Thursday and defeated John Newcombe and Owen Davidson 10-12, 8-6, 6-4, 6-2 in the doubles semi-finals of the Australian Tennis Championships.

Davis Cup star Roy Emerson and Ken Fletcher, a newly-formed doubles team, beat Tony Roche and Bill Bowrey 3-6, 6-4, 6-3 in an unimpressive victory. All four are Australians.

Bower-Imlach Tangle Simmons Takes Over

TORONTO (CP)—Veteran goalie Johnny Bower, a stand-out for Toronto Maple Leafs in their last nine games, will miss two weekend games with Boston Bruins and next week's practice sessions.

The club announcement that he was being replaced for the week by alternate goalie Don Simmons came after a blow-up by Bower during a tough practice session Thursday morning.

The Globe and Mail, suggesting a reported hand injury was a cover used by Leafs manager-coach Punch Imlach to make the real reason for Bower's departure, said Bower "stomped angrily" into the dressing-room 15 minutes before the practice session ended and buried his equipment to the floor.

Bower went immediately to team physician Dr. Jim Murray who said the goalie has a swelling and bruising of his left hand, particularly his index finger.

"I have seen this about three times in the last three weeks and it has not improved," Dr. Murray said. "I think it will be come chronic if he doesn't have a period of rest."

Bower has been on a particularly hot streak since he was beaten 7-5 by Montreal Canadiens Dec. 11. Since then, he has played in more straight games, allowing only 18 goals and netting three shutouts. Leafs won six of the nine, but one and lost two.

LED TO FRICTION?

His last effort, a 6-1 win over Montreal Wednesday night, may have led to friction between him and Imlach.

The Globe and Mail says it learned from one source that at one stage of the game, Canadiana goalie John Ferguson sped across the Toronto goal mouth, brushing against Bower.

Ferguson fell headlong into the boards when play halted. Bower stated toward Ferguson with scolding intent, and gave him a friendly pat with his stick when he saw the rival player was all right.

Imlach, according to this source, told Bower his job was between the goal posts and to stay there. When there was a further reference to the episode during yesterday's practice, Bower reportedly steamed off the ice with words to the effect that he would play the game his own way.

Bower would not comment on the report.

Another source said Imlach had ordered Bower from the dugout practice and that the goalie had gone for an examination by Dr. Murray before the practice ended.

Bucks-Rockets Lock Horns In OJHL Friday Night Tango

Kelowna Buckaroos face another big game tonight when they lock horns with top place Kamloops Rockets in Kelowna Memorial Arena at 8 p.m.

Kelowna's most recent appearances on home ice have been real crowd-pleasers as they held Kamloops to a 4-4 tie in 60 minutes of the best hockey played by the team in some time. They got the new year off to a good start, January 1, thrashing the Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League leaders, New Westminster Royals, 6-2. They have split their last two contests, losing in Kamloops and winning in Vernon.

A victory would close the gap between the two teams to four points and put Kelowna in real contention for first place. They travel to Vernon Saturday night where they haven't lost a game since October 29.

Officials will be brought in from Vernon to work the game.

1964 Olympics Biggest Ever

TOKYO (AP)—The Tokyo Olympic organizing committee predicted today that the 1964 Olympic Games next October will be the biggest in history.

Based on their estimates on the first 27 replies received to inquiries to 109 nations on how many athletes they will send to the games, officials said their original estimate of 5,500 appeared much too conservative. The record total of 5,398 competitors was set at the 1960 Rome Olympics.

The officials said the replies indicated the number of entries from Asian countries will increase because of shorter travel and because the Olympics will be held in Asia for the first time.

The United States said it plans to enter 473 athletes, the largest number mentioned, as compared with 347 sent to the Rome Olympics. Britain plans a team of 300 and Australia 294. India's 156 is the largest Asian entry so far.

Ontario Public Scrutinizes Medical Insurance Proposal

TORONTO (UPI) — Public scrutiny of the Ontario government's draft medical insurance program has passed the half-way mark and producers put to the inquiry committee are beginning to appear.

Arguments presented to the government-appointed committee so far have grappled with the draft legislation on three main fronts—its basic principles, the scope of protection offered and its administration. The 14-member committee has heard both praise and criticism for the decision of Premier John Robarts' Conservative administration to meet and act on the proposals for protection against the expense of health care by maintaining the present system of voluntary, pre-paid, private-enterprise insurance.

A succession of professional groups which provide health care have appealed for inclusion of their services in benefits to be provided, protesting against the draft bill's exclusion from coverage of virtually all health care except that provided by physicians.

The Ontario Medical Association, consulted along with insurance companies by the government in drafting legislation, gave the last word of the hearings Jan. 25.

The registration introduced as Bill 165 last April would require both commercial and non-profit health insurers to offer to the public standard medical plans defined by the province.

The standard plan would be a minimum comprehensive one, would carry premiums up to a maximum not yet fixed. The maximum premium rate would be altered once a year by the insurers — organized in a body to be called Medical Care Inc. incorporated — if the government superintendent of insurance approves. If not, the rate would be set for a period of two years.

Three Held In Robbery Of $25,000 From Bank

Three men, including a native of Vancouver, were charged Thursday with armed robbery after a downtown branch of the Commercial Bank of Canada in Montreal was held up at gun point and robbed of about $25,000. Arrested within an hour of the holding were Herbert Livingston, 26, of Vancouver, John Jarrett, 29, of Halifax, and Kenneth Macdonald, 23, of Saint John. NB RCMP said all of the money and four 22-calibre revolvers were recovered following a chase.

NGOC THO

Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho today outlined a reform program aimed at strengthening all the forces in South Viet Nam to win the U.S.-backed war against the Communist Viet Cong in a statement to the press. He called for discipline and unity among his people. He promised them little. He said democratic liberty must wait.

Nel Dorson, of Quebec, Crown prosecutor in the murder trial of Wilbert Coffin, said Thursday a royal commission into the celebrated case "won't change anything." Mr. Dorson, a lawyer and former state secretary in the Dielenbaker government, said in an interview he has "some surprises and will bring forth witnesses" who know all about the background of the affair.

Difficult Choice Faces U.S. On South Viet Nam Tactics

SAIGON (AP) — The United States may soon have to choose between watching the Communists win in South Viet Nam or sending in major U.S. combat units.

The time for such a decision has not arrived but senior American officials in Saigon are looking at the odds closely.

A possible middle ground is that Saigon's new military government will recover the initiative from the enemy guerrilla army.

American observers say military setbacks are the result of confusion following the Nov. 1 coup which ousted President Ngo Dinh Diem. They hope the situation will straighten out in a few months.

What if it doesn't? Neutralization of South Viet Nam — advocated by French President de Gaulle, by Cambodia and by the Communists — could be regarded as an indirect surrender to the Communists.

WOULD BE SATISFIED

North Viet Nam has said it would be satisfied "for the time being" with a neutralized South Viet Nam with no U.S. troops. "We could wait for a few years on that basis before reunifying South Viet Nam with our country," a Hanoi official said recently in nearby Cambodia.

Diplomats are weighing the advantages and disadvantages of using U.S. combat units.

The main advantage, many veteran U.S. officers here believe, would be to give Americans command initiative. There are 15,000 Americans here now. In their limited role as advisers and in support elements, many American officers and men feel handicapped.

Bob Kennedy To Carry On Job At Least Until Elections

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy says he will stay on as attorney-general and do whatever President Johnson and the Democratic party ask him to in the presidential campaign.

Beyond that, the future of the brother of slain president John F. Kennedy remains unclear. "I'll certainly stay on through the election," he said in an interview. "I don't know what I'm going to do when that's over."

Kennedy deftly engineered his brother's successful campaign in 1960. Would he do as much for Johnson, who fought John Kennedy for the Democratic nomination that year? "I'll be available to work in the campaign," he replied. "Nobody's said anything to me about it yet, but I'll do whatever anybody—the president or the Democratic national committee—feels will be helpful."

Kennedy, 38, until today, had made no statements for publication about his plans since an assassin took his brother's life in Dallas Nov. 22.

The two chiefs of U.S. Antarctic operations, Rear Admiral J. R. Booby and Dr. T. O. Jones, Thursday became the first American Antarctic leaders to visit the Russian base at Mirny. They were shown through the meteorological communications, cosmic ray, earth magnetism and seismic laboratories of the Russian station during a three-hour tour. They also exchanged gifts with Soviet scientists before returning by air to their own base at McMurdo, 1,800 miles away.

West German Chancellor Erhard says French President de Gaulle had agreed to move for a West European summit meeting to cure the ills of the stagnation European Common Market.

President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria announced today the creation of revolutionary criminal courts "to deal with the bourgeoisie against the government." Some 30 persons were arrested and at least five injured in an outbreak of anti-government rioting in Algiers Monday and Tuesday. The demonstrators protested against government high prices and Ben Bella's strongman role.

Gaston Nasseau, French biologist, flew to Paris from Bahia, Cuba, today to take with officials of the French Cancer Institute on his last hope. A leukemia serum. Two four-year-old British boys, Edward Burke and Donald Brown, are in Apia, Samoa, for treatment with the serum, not recognized by French medical authorities. Nasseau arrived this week to a request by the French health ministry to submit the serum for tests at the cancer institute.

Prime Minister Pearson and President de Gaulle will discuss a plan for annual Franco-Canadian foreign policy consultations when Pearson visits Paris next week, diplomatic sources said Thursday.

Paul Emile Cardinal Leger appealed today to young Canadians to consider "giving a year or two" of their lives to service in Africa. The Roman Catholic Archbishop of Montreal, who has just completed a month-long visit to Africa, told a press conference there are opportunities for people from all fields of human activity to help the starving nations of that continent.

ATHENAGORAS

Paourich Athenagoras, spiritual head of the Eastern Orthodox Church, said in a sermon today that the Russian Revolution was a "great evil" and that the Russian people had been misled by a "false prophet" who had led them to a "false path."

Sugar Harvest Less In Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuba's 1963-64 sugar harvest was estimated at 3,000,000 metric tons, well below the 3,500,000 metric tons harvested in 1962.

The harvest, just begun, was estimated at 3,000,000 metric tons on the basis of a survey by the Sugar Planters Association of Cuba in Elmer. A meteorologist said the harvest was 250,000 tons less than last year.

The estimate compares with 3,800,000 tons produced in 1962 and a 6,000,000-ton average during the years before Prime Minister Fidel Castro attained power. Production hasn't dropped below 3,000,000 tons since 1943's harvest of 2,800,000. Pedro Martinez, spokesman for the cane growers association, said such factors as low yields, damage by hurricane Flora and possible sabotage figured in production calculations.

Peace Walkers Sent To Jail

ALBANY, Ga. (CP-AP) — Nine of 14 peace walkers, on whose behalf a demonstration is planned in Montreal Saturday, were convicted here Wednesday and sentenced to 25 days in jail or a fine of $101 each for illegal parading.

The other five refused to leave their jail cells and climb a stairway to the second-floor courtroom. The five were cited for contempt of court and sentenced to seven days in jail. The five had just completed contempt sentences of seven days for an earlier refusal to appear in court.

Judge A. N. Durden gave the nine who appeared before him credit for 18 days they had spent in jail. That left them seven days to serve.

Tories Draft "Stop-Gap" Platform

MONTREAL (CP) — The Conservative party's policy-makers meet here today to draft what is likely to be merely a stop-gap platform for the next general election, if it comes suddenly.

Party informants do not look upon the current two-day meeting of the 21-member resolutions committee as the one which will write a basic long-term program for the party. Work has begun on it but it is still very much in the thinking stage.

The committee, with more than 500 draft resolutions before it, is to prepare a report for next month's Progressive Conservative Association annual general meeting in Ottawa. The resolutions were sent in by party organizations from coast to coast which will send delegates to Ottawa to debate the committee's report next Feb. 3-5.

ASSESSING PROBLEMS

In addition to the 21-member resolutions committee, there is a smaller, more select group of Conservative party thinkers currently at work assessing long-range Canadian problems and the education of Conservative party members. The national think research group was organized by Prime Minister Lagan, Chairman of Montreal last November and has lately begun its work.

The resolutions committee is examining the ideas sent in by party workers and placing them under 10 general headings. The first of these, in addition to expressing loyalty to the Crown and confidence in Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker's leadership of the party, may attempt to state the basic principles of the party in brief.

The resolutions will also deal with the broad topics of national unity, federal-provincial relations, national development, the national economy, industrial relations, social security, parliament, defence and international affairs, and youth.

But the definitive statement of party philosophy may not emerge from the work of the policy study group for another year—if then, assuming another general election does not interrupt the process.
